Kari M. Rosamond assists in representing oil and gas producers and their contractors against personal injury and property damage claims. From her days as in-house counsel with a marine company, Kari knows the ins and outs of a maritime industry and uses that experience when defending her clients. By diving into an investigation and truly understanding all the facts, she helps maritime and energy industry companies defend against disputes that arise from the nature of their business

In the past year, she has expanded her practice to include Louisiana workers compensation claims.

She has recently been named a Committee Member of Maritime Risk Claim Solutions, Inc. and is the Past-President of the Terrebonne Bar Association.
