

Casey B. Wendling

Associate

504.593.0620

cwendling@deutschkerrigan.com

Practices

Civil Litigation
Commercial Transportation
Premises Liability
Manufacturer's Liability and Products Liability

Industries

Manufacturing
Transportation
Retail and Restaurant

Bar Admissions

Louisiana

Education

J.D., Louisiana State
University, Paul M. Heber
Law Center, *Louisiana Law
Review*, 2019

B.A., Villanova University,
magna cum laude, Phi Beta Kappa Honor Society, 2016

Casey Wendling is an associate in the firm's Civil Litigation practice. She is a proud New Orleans native who is passionate about contributing to the community. Casey has exemplary written and verbal communication skills. As a law student, Casey served as the Production Editor for Volume 89 of the Louisiana Law Review. Also, Casey was nominated for membership in the Wex S. Malone American Inn of Court, an organization extending membership to selected students based on their ability to orally argue during the LSU Law Center's annual Trial Advocacy Program.

Casey has a diverse practice area, defending commercial transportation, products liability, and premises liability cases. As a strong advocate for her clients, she uses her time efficiently and prides herself on a persuasive and high-quality work product.

Professional Associations

- American Bar Association, Young Lawyers Division
- New Orleans Bar Association
- Federal Bar Association